

Important Information Regarding TILA-RESPA Integrated Disclosure (TRID) Rule

Notice to students: If your course contains information on the Truth in Lending Act (TILA) and the Real Estate Settlement Procedure Act (RESPA), you need to be aware of some recent federal law changes that affect these two statutes.

Purpose

Over the years, both the Truth in Lending Act (TILA) and the Real Estate Settlement Procedure Act (RESPA) provided protection, safeguards, and disclosures to consumers who were shopping for mortgages.

However, they required lenders and settlement agents to provide borrowers with two sets of different but overlapping disclosure forms explaining the loan's terms and costs.

To address this issue, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (commonly referred to as Dodd-Frank) directed the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) to simplify and integrate the forms and create new rules surrounding mortgage transactions.

The resulting TILA-RESPA Integrated Disclosure (TRID) Rule replaces older disclosure requirements under TILA and RESPA for most real property loans. The TRID Rule, also known as the Know Before You Owe mortgage disclosure rule, consolidates four disclosures into two new forms--the Loan Estimate and the Closing Disclosure. The new forms became mandatory October 3, 2015.

Loan Estimate

The Loan Estimate form integrates and replaces the Good Faith Estimate (GFE) and the initial Truth-in-Lending (TIL) disclosure statement.

The Loan Estimate promotes comparison shopping by providing a summary of applicable loan terms and estimates of loan and closing costs consumers can expect to pay (or not pay) at closing. This includes:

- estimated monthly payment
- estimated taxes, insurance, and assessments
- estimated closing costs and required cash to close
- services that can and cannot be shopped for

Timing of Delivery

The creditor (lender) must provide the Loan Estimate to the consumer (borrower) no later than three business days after the consumer submits a loan application.

Closing Disclosure

The Closing Disclosure form integrates and replaces the Housing and Urban Development Settlement Statement (HUD-1) and the final TIL disclosure statement.

The Closing Disclosure includes a detailed accounting of the final terms of the mortgage transaction, including a breakdown of the closing costs to be paid by the buyer, seller, and others (e.g., the lender).

Timing of Delivery

The creditor must provide the Closing Disclosure to the consumer no later than three business days prior to consummation of the loan.

Coverage and Exceptions

In general, the TRID Rule applies to all closed-end credit transactions secured by real property (i.e., federally related mortgage loans, as the term is used in RESPA).

However, even if defined as a federally related mortgage loan, certain loan classifications are exempt from the requirements of the TRID Rule, including:

- home equity lines of credit (HELOCs)
- reverse mortgages
- mortgages secured by a mobile home, boat, or other dwelling not permanently attached to land
- loans made by a person who makes five or fewer mortgage loans a year (Such a person does not meet the definition of "creditor" under Regulation Z.)

Please note that if the extension of credit is covered by either TILA or RESPA, the creditor may not use the TRID forms in place of those required for the subject loan under the applicable law. In other words, for those loans that are not covered under TRID, the creditor must use the disclosure forms required for the specific type of loan being taken as set forth by law.

For example:

- Consumers applying for a reverse mortgage will continue to receive a Truth-in-Lending (TIL) disclosure, a Good Faith Estimate (GFE), and a HUD-1 Settlement Statement, as required by TILA and RESPA.
- Consumers applying for a home equity line of credit (HELOC), a manufactured housing loan that is not secured by real estate, or a loan through certain types of homebuyer assistance programs will not receive a GFE or a Loan Estimate but should receive a Truth-in-Lending (TIL) disclosure, as required by TILA.

"Your Home Loan Toolkit: A Step-by-Step Guide"

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) was also directed to revise an existing settlement costs booklet. The creditor must provide the new booklet, titled "Your Home Loan Toolkit: A Step-by-Step Guide," to the consumer no later than three business days after the consumer submits a loan application.

Additional Information About This Loan

Loan Disclosures

Assumption

- If you sell or transfer this property to another person, your lender
- will allow, under certain conditions, this person to assume this loan on the original terms.
 - will not allow assumption of this loan on the original terms.

Demand Feature

Your loan

- has a demand feature, which permits your lender to require early repayment of the loan. You should review your note for details.
- does not have a demand feature.

Late Payment

If your payment is more than 15 days late, your lender will charge a late fee of 5% of the monthly principal and interest payment.

Negative Amortization (Increase in Loan Amount)

Under your loan terms, you

- are scheduled to make monthly payments that do not pay all of the interest due that month. As a result, your loan amount will increase (negatively amortize), and your loan amount will likely become larger than your original loan amount. Increases in your loan amount lower the equity you have in this property.
- may have monthly payments that do not pay all of the interest due that month. If you do, your loan amount will increase (negatively amortize), and, as a result, your loan amount may become larger than your original loan amount. Increases in your loan amount lower the equity you have in this property.
- do not have a negative amortization feature.

Partial Payments

Your lender

- may accept payments that are less than the full amount due (partial payments) and apply them to your loan.
- may hold them in a separate account until you pay the rest of the payment, and then apply the full payment to your loan.
- does not accept any partial payments.

If this loan is sold, your new lender may have a different policy.

Security Interest

You are granting a security interest in
456 Somewhere Ave., Anytown, ST 12345

You may lose this property if you do not make your payments or satisfy other obligations for this loan.

Escrow Account

For now, your loan

- will have an escrow account (also called an "impound" or "trust" account) to pay the property costs listed below. Without an escrow account, you would pay them directly, possibly in one or two large payments a year. Your lender may be liable for penalties and interest for failing to make a payment.

Escrow
Escrowed Property Costs over Year 1	$2,473.56	Estimated total amount over year 1 for your escrowed property costs: Homeowner's Insurance Property Taxes
Non-Escrowed Property Costs over Year 1	$1,800.00	Estimated total amount over year 1 for your non-escrowed property costs: Homeowner's Association Dues You may have other property costs.
Initial Escrow Payment	$412.25	A cushion for the escrow account you pay at closing. See Section G on page 2.
Monthly Escrow Payment	$206.13	The amount included in your total monthly payment.

- will not have an escrow account because you declined it your lender does not offer one. You must directly pay your property costs, such as taxes and homeowner's insurance. Contact your lender to ask if your loan can have an escrow account.

No Escrow
Estimated Property Costs over Year 1		Estimated total amount over year 1. You must pay these costs directly, possibly in one or two large payments a year.
Escrow Waiver Fee

In the future,

Your property costs may change and, as a result, your escrow payment may change. You may be able to cancel your escrow account, but if you do, you must pay your property costs directly. If you fail to pay your property taxes, your state or local government may (1) impose fines and penalties or (2) place a tax lien on this property. If you fail to pay any of your property costs, your lender may (1) add the amounts to your loan balance, (2) add an escrow account to your loan, or (3) require you to pay for property insurance that the lender buys on your behalf, which likely would cost more and provide fewer benefits than what you could buy on your own.

Other Disclosures

Appraisal

If the property was appraised for your loan, your lender is required to give you a copy at no additional cost at least 3 days before closing. If you have not yet received it, please contact your lender at the information listed below.

Contract Details

See your note and security instrument for information about

- what happens if you fail to make your payments,
- what is a default on the loan,
- situations in which your lender can require early repayment of the loan, and
- the rules for making payments before they are due.

Liability after Foreclosure

If your lender forecloses on this property and the foreclosure does not cover the amount of unpaid balance on this loan,

- state law may protect you from liability for the unpaid balance. If you refinance or take on any additional debt on this property, you may lose this protection and have to pay any debt remaining even after foreclosure. You may want to consult a lawyer for more information.
- state law does not protect you from liability for the unpaid balance.

Refinance

Refinancing this loan will depend on your future financial situation, the property value, and market conditions. You may not be able to refinance this loan.

Tax Deductions

If you borrow more than this property is worth, the interest on the loan amount above this property's fair market value is not deductible from your federal income taxes. You should consult a tax advisor for more information.
